meridian|development
learninspirecreate

developmentbrochure
2004

Access
ASP
Oracle
SQL Server
C++ VBA Visual Basic Java
XML
HTML
JavaScript

ourdevelopment

With an emphasis on providing business solutions, Meridian employs all its experience to ensure that every project delivers a quality system that enhances your business performance.

In addition, the speed of response and ability to produce cost effective results makes Meridian an automatic choice for a number of large and small organisations alike.

Visit our web site and judge for yourself!

bespoke software

Meridian designs and builds bespoke software and databases for businesses of any type and size.

Our solutions are tailored to your exact requirements, and in many cases we can do so less expensively than off the shelf software, in-house programmers or internal IS departments.

What you receive is a completely tailor-made package that is both branded in your company style and works in exactly the way you want it.

Feel free to contact us to discuss your requirements.

databases

An important aspect of successful business development is the efficient handling of your client and business information.

Meridian offers database design, development, programming support, training and consultancy services to develop interactive database applications that perform to your specific business needs and requirements.

Meridian can help you either redesign your existing company database or provide improved front end functionality to access your current databases in a more productive manner.

For case studies visit our site:
www.meridiandevelopment.co.uk

our work process

Every stage of the development process needs to be carefully monitored, and we stand by our thorough methods:

01 Identify business issue

02 Develop concept

03 Speak to Meridian

04 Functional specification & prototyping

05 User considerations

06 Reports

07 Storage and capacity

08 Organisational issues

09 Design

10 Implementation and testing

11 Training

12 Ongoing support and development

pricing

Pricing for projects varies greatly depending on its complexity and length. A detailed specification is written before commencement detailing how many days the project will take.

The price for development work is £495 per day.

tools used

Access | ASP | Oracle
SQL Server | C++ | VBA
Visual Basic | Java | XML
HTML | JavaScript

yourbenefit

small web site

approximate cost:
£1,000 – £3,500

approximate timescales:
1 – 3 Weeks

what you get:
Professional advice on the best way to promote your company on the Internet

Detailed written specification

Web site design consisting of 5 – 10 pages

Layout of all graphics and text, including browser safe colours

E-mail forms to allow Internet users to contact you via e-mail

All links and mailto's (e.g. click here to send us a mail) as necessary

Registration with major search engines

web development
At Meridian we build striking, dynamic and interactive sites, for organisations of all kinds. They are clear, well designed and effective.
The first stage is understanding your business and expectations from a web site, followed by a detailed specification and development of your site.

The design and technical expertise at Meridian ensures a visually attractive, fast downloading site that is clear, effective and easily navigated.

We are flexible in our approach and can tailor our service to do as little or as much as you need. We will offer design suggestions to give you a unique look, or maintain your corporate identity with your own graphics.

To remain effective and get you the best results, your site must remain up to date, both in content and style whilst staying at the top of all search criteria – a job for Meridian.

For case studies visit our site:
www.meridiandevelopment.co.uk

our web site
The Meridian web site was created by the web development team to be quick and easy way to access information regarding all of Meridian's services, and demonstrate our programming and development skills.

The site contains links to a number of our recent projects; a great place to start when looking for the solution to your next IT project.

about meridiandevelopment
Meridian is an independently owned IT Services company with over 10 years experience. Our offices in Henley-on-Thames provide the ideal setting for both our training courses and development environment.

Our location provides easy access to London and the M4 corridor, enabling us to work with some of the biggest companies in the area and recruit some of the best programmers in the country.

Importantly, we don't have the cost associated with working from London and can therefore offer our expertise at highly competitive rates.

large web site

approximate cost:
£3,500 - £10,000

approximate timescales:
2 – 4 Weeks

what you get:
As above plus:

Complete site design to reflect your company image/branding

Up to 50 pages – well sectioned and easy to browse

Search engine capabilities built into your site

Staff training